For kids seeking adventure, the Tropical Rainforest Water Table sets the scene for a great escape where they can pour water through the treetops and watch in wonder as they make real rainfall. Imagine the stories little ones will create of the tree-frog and toucan duo exploring the rainforest canopy and diving into the water to swim with the colorful tropical fish. Kids can learn cause and effect by building their own waterfalls with put-and-place maze pieces. The Tropical Rainforest Water Table is available for $69.99 at www.Step2.com and comes with a 13-piece accessory set for endless outdoor fun.

The Lazy Maze River Run Water Table is full of surprises to keep youngsters entertained and learning for hours at a time. Kids drop balls into one tower and fill the other one up with water to jumpstart the magic maze. They'll be captivated as the bright, colorful balls rise up and roll through the curvy turns and down the towers. While having fun, kids also are developing their fine motor skills and witnessing physics in motion, using the flippers to launch the balls back into the river. The spinners also teach silly cause-and-effect play. The Step2 Lazy Maze River Run Water Table is available for $49.99 exclusively on Amazon.com and comes with a 10-piece accessory set.

Kids can splash into an underwater excursion with their dolphin and fish friends in the Spill & Splash Seaway Water Table. They'll spend their days going on deep-sea dives, exploring the cascading waterfalls and sliding into the cool water in the two separate play areas — ideal for social play. And, have no fear. Shade is aplenty with the included umbrella so little ones are free to take in the sunshine safely while enhancing their fine motor skills. The multi-level sensory
